Tea Light Candle Holder.

Welcome to my latest project.

Winter is upon us,and time to get cosy with all the warmth of candles.

Up-cycling is my passion,and reusing all kinds of timber,and one of this weeks projects is the above made from a pallet.

I have kept it simple with lots of sanding,and shaping and rustic with the latest Tea Light holder,i have made one before from Pine,which holds 1 Candle.

See the Picture below.Pine with Danish Oil Finish.

Here are some pictures of starting out with my Tea Light Candle Holder,more will be uploaded over the next couple of days.

This is the start,it is the same timber i used to make the gate earlier about 6 months ago,i don't like waste,so i do try and use what i can.

More pictures will be uploaded,soon.

I'm still working on the mobile phone case,and finishing of details,and letting it dry,i'm adding the trim around the opening of the case(wooden Mobile Phone Case)

I have never done one before,so it's trial and error.

Below are the picture's of the finished Tea Light Candle Holder.
Natural look.

Time to light up.

A trio of cosy lighting and warmth,all Natural.
